

DEBRA M. SELLERS, Ph.D.

Positions (Selected)

2023 (Feb. 1) – 2025 (Dec. 15 – RETIRED). Inaugural Associate Dean for Academic Personnel, College of Health and Human Sciences, Iowa State University, Ames, IA.

- 75% administration and 25% education in aging and disability (ISU Extension and Outreach).

Primary Duties

- Create a vision and provide strategic leadership for the college's personnel ("people") enterprise in partnership with the departments, school, and other administrative units.
- Create, implement, and evaluate strategies, offerings, programs, courses, resources, standards, and processes for all personnel, with an emphasis on facilitating positive local cultures within units and across the college.
- Direct and facilitate personnel processes and policies related to human resources (e.g., recruitment, hiring, retention, professional development, awards and honors, assessment of performance, action plans, promotion and tenure, leaves of absence, modification of duties, classification, and compensation reviews).
- Build and cultivate the partnership with the Office of the Senior Vice President and Provost to ensure support of college decisions and initiatives.
- Serve as the representative of the dean and act on behalf of the dean in matters related to personnel affairs of the college.
- Create, implement, and evaluate educational offerings, programs, courses, and resources related to aging and disability within the college and cooperative extension system.

Key Accomplishments

- Created teams of people (supervisors' community of practice and department chair sub-committee) and recruited/re-energized others (awareness, belonging and community committee; faculty peer mentors; faculty success advisor) to drive change related to creating and cultivating positive local culture in units and across the college.
- Managed the human resources personnel enterprise in partnership with college leaders while emphasizing risk management, best practices, financial consequences, and the importance of measures and strategies supporting the prevention of personnel concerns.
- Led the dean's cabinet in a systematic review of position requirements for faculty using the American Council on Education's® "Equity-Minded Faculty Workloads" materials.
- Engaged with various college committees through reviews of processes and provision of education to members to decrease bias and increase diversity as appropriate for their specific roles and responsibilities.
- Launched the My Wellbeing program, designed for adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities, in January 2024. Sixteen series are completed, reaching 175 participants.

2024 (July – Sept.) Interim Associate Dean and Director, College of Health and Human Sciences and Human Sciences Extension and Outreach, Iowa State University Extension and Outreach, Ames, IA.

- Re-assumed all responsibilities during a critical transition period for the unit.
- Maintained responsibilities as Associate Dean for Academic Personnel, Professor, and Extension State Specialist while also operating as Associate Dean and Director for Human Sciences Extension and Outreach.

- Provided leadership and support for Human Sciences Extension and Outreach faculty and staff and for the overall functioning of the unit.
- Proactively addressed personnel issues within the unit.
- Completed the annual evaluation process for staff and faculty.
- Facilitated engagement in the Iowa Disaster Recovery effort.

2013 – 2023. Associate Dean and Director, College of Human Sciences and Human Sciences Extension and Outreach, Iowa State University, Ames, IA.

- 100% administration; duties temporarily modified July 1, 2016 – December 31, 2016, to 20% administration, 70% Extension education, and 10% service.

Primary Duties

- Contribute to the strategic plans of the College of Human Sciences, Iowa State University Extension and Outreach, and Iowa State University through the creation and implementation of an innovative unit-level vision and aspirational metrics.
- Demonstrate success through attainment of goals and objectives.
- Cultivate constructive, collegial relationships with diverse internal stakeholders across the college and university and external partners and funders across the state and nation.
- Collaboratively lead more than 100 faculty and staff on campus and across Iowa and provide leadership for all aspects of the human resources enterprise (including ~20 direct reports and faculty). Engage in ongoing, concise communications and strategies to elevate awareness of critical issues and to support a sense of belonging for employees.
- Provide responsible and ethical management of a $9M budget, including federal and state funding, grants and contracts, and revenue generation. Pursue opportunities for growth through grant writing, fundraising, and fee-for-service.

Key Accomplishments

- Created a strategic vision and implemented the development and continuous nurturing of a supportive, collaborative culture through application of a personal leadership philosophy which includes the principles of authenticity, trust, inspiration, shared decision-making, and expectation of performance.
- Articulated and implemented a culture of change and agile responsiveness, resulting in a model of integrated instruction, research, and community engagement with a focus on reaching audiences historically excluded from access to educational opportunities.
- Designed and executed a resource management project and reorganized statewide fee and service models to ensure access for all and instructional excellence in online, virtual, and in-person education with an emphasis on interdisciplinary teamwork.
- Created a financially secure unit through efficient and progressive management methods while increasing the number of faculty, staff, and student workers.

2020. (April – September). Acting Vice President, Iowa State University Extension and Outreach, Iowa State University, Ames, IA.

- Provided data-driven leadership during the global pandemic, including creation and management of Open for Iowa, a system-wide committee responsible for the safety of faculty, staff, and participants, and COVID-19 Recovery and Virtual Education Task Forces.

- Led the daily management of ISU Extension and Outreach with a focus on maintaining the mission of providing highly relevant, engaging educational offerings, courses, programs, and resources virtually and in-person, while adhering to pedagogical and public safety best practices.
- Supported the work of more than 1,000 employees and engaged in operational decision-making and implementation of initiatives, including a system-wide reorganization.
- Provided leadership and decision-making related to personnel issues, with a focus on risk and change management, and proactive processes to communicate the value of employees' contributions to the organization and institutional concern for their wellbeing.

2020. (August – September). Interim Senior Director, Iowa State University Extension and Outreach, Ames, IA.

- Operated as Interim Senior Director and Acting Vice President concurrently.
- Assumed supervision of employees and system-wide projects and committee memberships.
